

ABSTRACT

A current amount of a current that flows in the transistor (23) of a current mirror circuit that retrieves an L-R component signal from a stereo composite signal is adjusted based on a control signal that is generated by the control circuit (25).
5